

Learning Log Entries

by Linda Corrin

Learning logs can be used as an effective tool for students to state their knowledge and opinions, and to express their feelings.

Some possible openers are:

- A pattern I noticed is.....
- Something that helps me remember the hand signs for this song is.....
- A mistake I was making was... but now.....
- What I'm good at is.....
- The most interesting thing I've learned is....
- When I don't know how to do something in music class, I usually.....
- The best thing I've done in music class is.....
- I wish we could do more.....
- The thing I have the most difficulty understanding is.....
- I would really like you to know....

Self Evaluation

by Linda Corrin

Name: _____

Date: _____

While studying the song _____

I learned that I can:

1. _____

2. _____

3. _____

The activity I liked the best was:

Something I wish I could have done better is

Self Evaluation Chart

by Linda Corrin

Name _____ Grade _____

Term _____ Division _____

1 = I can demonstrate this skill consistently and to a high standard.

2 = I can demonstrate this skill satisfactorily most of the time.

3 = I have difficulty with this skill but am working at it.

4 = I don't understand this skill at all.

	Date	Skill/Concept	Self Eval.	Peer Eval.
1
2
3
4
5
6
7

Comments:

Group Assessment

by Linda Corrin

Names: _____

Activity _____

Did the Group:	Yes	Mostly	No
1. Listen?
2. Talk about the task?
3. Cooperate?
4. Suggest good ideas?
5. Finish the task?

What went well?

What do you wish you had done differently?